

McCormack/McLendon Scholarship

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The McLendon/McCormack Scholarship offers individuals that identify as a minority the unique opportunity to further their education at one of the world's most prestigious sport management programs.

Applicants have the opportunity to earn tuition-free admission into one of two McCormack graduate sport management programs:

- Two-year MBA/MS dual degree program
- One-year MS program

THE MCCORMACK DEPARTMENT OF SPORT MANAGEMENT

The second oldest degree program of its kind globally, the McCormack Department of Sport Management at UMass Amherst is currently ranked by Sport Business as the #1 graduate sport management program in the world. It is also one of the few sport management programs housed in a business school.

Learn more at minorityleaders.org.

DETAILS & ELIGIBILITY

Program Includes:

- Admission to the McCormack graduate sport management program
- A graduate assistantship that covers tuition and fees
- Opportunity to attend events hosted by the McLendon Foundation and NACDA
- Access to the McLendon Foundation, its partners and the McLendon Leadership Initiative

Scholars Award Eligibility:

- Must be an ethnic minority
- Undergraduate GPA of at least 3.2

Application Process:

1. Pre-Application: Complete the application on McLendon's website and indicate interest in the McCormack Scholarship.
2. Submit application on UMass' website by Feb 1
3. On-campus interview: Top candidates will be invited to an on-campus interview to determine admission

The graduate programs meet in person. There is no fully virtual program offered at this time.

Mark H. McCormack Department of Sport Management

McLENDON
FOUNDATION

